Conflict and Coexistence: Lessons Learned from Coastal Community Experiences with Offshore Wind

Dr. Alison Bates
Assistant Professor of Environmental Studies
Colby College, Waterville, ME
Social Acceptance of Offshore Wind

- Place Attachment in Communities

- Project support is linked to identification with ocean spaces, and are place-dependent

- Risk perception

Stakeholder Concerns

- Fear and distrust
- Power inequities
- Transparency
- Mutual benefits
Community Consultation

Thank you

alison.bates@colby.edu